Two Schools, working together

St Michael's Collegiate School and The Hutchins School are two Pre-Kindergarten to Year 12 Anglican single sex day and boarding schools in Hobart, Tasmania. Each school provides the best in single sex education while making the most of a variety of co-educational opportunities.

There are numerous opportunities for students to learn together in leadership, the creative arts, outdoor education, boarding and STEM with co-education classes for all Years 11 – 12 students. For international students there is also a combined ELICOS program in addition to a well-established combined holiday boarding program offered in the April and October school holidays.

Both schools offer a competitive and affordable fee structure making them two of the most accessible and high value independent boarding schools in Australia.

The Hutchins School

Established in 1846, Hutchins is the oldest continually operating school for boys in Australia and has a long tradition of developing character with a firm focus on student wellbeing. Our long and proud history of academic achievement is complemented by a diverse co-curricular program that features comprehensive sport, performing arts and service programs.

International students are an important part of The Hutchins School community. Our community celebrates cultural diversity and enjoys global networking opportunities. Hutchins is proudly a member of Round Square – a prestigious global network of high calibre schools excelling in character education, experiential learning and global citizenship.

Choosing a boys school has many advantages that allows our students to discover their passion, broaden their experience and embrace challenges, equipping students with the skills that will serve them for life.

St Michael's Collegiate School

Since 1892, St Michael's Collegiate School for girls has been a trailblazer in education, partnering tradition with innovation.

At Collegiate we know that students flourish when they are supported in a safe and inclusive environment and are engaged in activities that are challenging, adventurous and meaningful.

The learning experiences are engaging, interdisciplinary, academically rigorous and experiential. The Collegiate boarding program is the first in Australia to be accredited in meeting the Australian Boarding Standards, providing life changing opportunities and exceptional support.

Our proven ability to develop leaders who embody our values of courage, integrity and compassion has been replicated decade after decade.
